

Welcome to January's tarot energies.

Using tarot on a monthly, weekly or daily basis is an amazing tool for helping plan your month. When you know the energies that are supporting you that month you are better able to make decisions about what to do and, sometimes more importantly, what not to do. I hope you resonate with these cards and find the hope and support that is intended.

THE EMPRESS

What a great card to star the year! The Empress. The Divine Feminine. The Nurturer. Abundance. This card is about creativity and the birth of new projects. All of which we want to do this year.

The Empress calls on you to connect with your feminine energies. The yin part of our soul. Discover how to express yourself creatively this year and relish in the abundance that the Empress brings.

When The Empress appears in a reading she is indicating that we are in a time of growth and that the new creative ideas you are having at this time need to be nourished and nurtured so they can grow in to beautiful blessings.

THE HANGED MAN

The Hanged Man. Upon first glance seems like a bit of a challenging card (especially from the name). However, this card simply asks us to look at life from a different perspective.

Perhaps we are too caught up in a situation to see it how it really is. Can't see the forest for the trees - type of idea. When The Hanged Man comes into a reading, he asks us to take a conscious pause. To step back for a minute so. You can see the big picture and where your role in it might not necessarily be as it seems.

Remember that taking a purposeful break is so much better than the Universe coming in and doing it for you.
